

*Love may not make the world go round,
but we must admit that it makes the ride worthwhile.*

Fall in love this Valentine's Day as we provide you with the hottest places to be, the most special gifts to give, and the most romantic things to do around the island:

WAIKIKI AQUARIUM

Come and be sea-duced as love will be in the air –and in the water– at the Waikiki Aquarium's annual Seaduction Valentine's Day dinner. This enchanting evening features a bubbly champagne reception, romantic three-course, candlelit dinner catered by Ginniberries set within the blissful backdrop of the Aquarium's galleries, and is limited to 36 couples.

Elegant tables for two will be arranged throughout the Aquarium's galleries fronting such captivating exhibits as Ocean Drifters, Hunters of the Reef, Mini Marine Life, South Pacific Marine Communities and Weedy Sea Dragons. Couples may reserve the table/exhibit of their choice on a first come, first serve basis.

Saturday, February 14, 2009. Doors open at 6:30 p.m., dinner will be served at 7 p.m. The cost is $300 per couple, inclusive, with proceeds benefiting the Waikiki Aquarium. Valet parking will be provided. For reservations, call 440-9015 or visit www.waquarium.com.

CRAZY SHIRTS

Flowers will wilt, chocolates will be eaten, and wine will be drunk on Valentine's Day. So, why not give your favorite girl a gift that will last beyond February 14. Crazy Shirts has the perfect Valentine's gifts for women including its specialty dyed T-shirts in wine, chocolate, sunflower and lavender. The dyes are 100% natural and their fragrances and creative designs are sure to bring out any woman's beauty.

Each T-shirt also comes in unique packaging and can be purchased online at www.crazyshirts.com or at local Crazy Shirts store locations across the US.
